Orphan's Party, Dec. 19, Climaxes Ten Day Holiday Season Program

• THE ANNUAL ORPHAN'S party Thursday evening at 7:00 climaxes the ten days of the University's first holiday season program, sponsored by the Holiday Season Committee.

About 275 under-privileged children from the northwest area are expected to attend the party, the fifth event sponsored by the holiday committee. The children will be taken directly to the gymnasium and will then be divided into age groups suitable for specific types of games. The various groups will go to the four dormitories, the Student Union and Woodhull house for their respective parties. In addition to the dorms, parties will be sponsored by the Inter-Fraternity Council; Tassels, sophomore women's service honorary; Panhellenic Council, and the Religious Council.

Two "rotating Santas" will visit the various parties. They are known in off-season weather as Ed Rutch and Vance Redmond. Following the distribution of presents by the Santas, the children will be ushered back to the gym to see films consisting of a set of cartoons and a Christmas feature.

Hillel Hears Dean Speak

• DR. BENJAMIN VAN Evera, dean of Sponsored Research at the University, spoke on "Religion and Science" at the Hillel Foundation last Friday afternoon.

Speaking on the age-old debate of science versus religion, Dr. Van Evera asserted that this should not be a problem; we should not think of science and religion as two opposing forces. Science does not attempt to disprove religion, he said. For example, in the case of the creation of the world and of man, science does not dispute the fact that it was done by God, it merely helps explain what happened and how it happened.

Dr. Van Evera went on to say that "religion is in the scientist, not in the science." "This is a very important distinction," he added.

He stressed the importance of scientists in the world today, and emphasized the fact that if students really want to do something for their fellow-men, science is an excellent field in which to accomplish this.

The dean illustrated his talk with drawings and explanations of simple atoms and molecules.

The speech was followed by a question and answer period, after which Ben Prager conducted the weekly Friday afternoon Sabbath service in the Hillel chapel. The services were sponsored by Deuteron sorority.

Preceding the speech and the service, a snack bar was held in the main room.

Cherry Tree Deadline Ends For Greek Pic's

• FRATERNITIES AND sororities should turn in their informal pictures to the Cherry Tree immediately, according to editor, Ed Crump.

Any fraternity or sorority that does not turn in their informal pictures for the 1957 annual will have last year's picture appear, said Mr. Crump.

The December 20 deadline for the ordering of the Cherry Tree with either the Campus Combo or a down payment of $3.50 is rapidly approaching, warns Mr. Crump. The sales booth which is located in the Student Union lobby will be open every day from noon to 1:00 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, and every evening between 6:00 and 7:00 p.m. For students without Campus Combos the total cost of the Cherry Tree is $6.50.

This year's yearbook will be the largest one in its history and according to Mr. Crump will have at least 25 more pages than it did last year.

Organizations that have not turned in entry forms for their Cherry Tree candidate should contact Sue Thayer. The contest is based on beauty and will be judged by Bob Cummings, the movie and television star. Mr. Cummings will select the winner from pictures of the candidates.

The Cherry Tree is edited by Ed Crump. Warren Barley is business manager and Carol Koyen, Mary Ann Alderson and Ronnie West are associate editors.

Debate Team Goes To NYU

• THE UNIVERSITY DEBATE team competed on December 13 and 14 in the Hall of Fame Tournament at New York University.

Supporting the question: "That the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal" was the affirmative team of Dick Spradlin and Don Campbell. Dick Jamborsky and Edward Felegy presented the negative viewpoint.

Winners were picked on the basis of how well the argument had been put across to the listeners. Trophies are awarded at each debate and the best debaters from each district in the country are sent to the West Point Invitation-

The question for debate is chosen at the beginning of the year and remains the subject throughout the whole season.

Those chosen to represent the University at the various contests are taken from the members of the Debate club whose officers are: Ed Felegy, president; Frank Gregory, vice-president and Judy Jaffee, secretary.

to the group that donates the largest number of toys. The president of the winning organization will be awarded the trophy on television some time after the holidays.

The Holiday Ball, last Friday in the Student Union, was the first of the five events in the Holiday program. The dance was sponsored by the Student Council, Dance Production groups and the Holiday Season committee.

Holiday Theme

Santa Claus Al Rode, Student Council president, maintained the holiday theme as he circled around the room which was decorated with three dimensional white Christmas trees with sparkle dust on red flats and evergreens with red ribbons circling the lights. Candles in bottles ornamented the tables.

Music for the dance was supplied by Tom Conlon and his orchestra, with Bill Dotson and Jan Powers acting as master and mistress of ceremonies. Priscilla Nicholson was in charge of decorations. Acting as hostesses for the evening were members of Phi Sigma Sigma sorority. Free refreshments were served to the guests by the Cleaves cafeteria.

"The festive decorations created a holiday atmosphere, and Santa Claus added to the holiday spirit," said Jan Powers, Student Council activities director.

Tim Meade, co-chairman, said that "It appeared that everyone enjoyed himself. I was fairly pleased with the turnout."

Faculty Student Tea

The Faculty Wives club and the adviser of foreign students sponsored the Faculty-Student Tea in Lisner lounge, late Monday afternoon. All members of the student body were invited to the tea.

The same evening, the traditional Christmas tree lighting ceremony took place on Lisner stage. The School of Engineering donated two Christmas trees which were presented to the University by Vincent Rider, president of the Engineer's Council.

Christmas Story

The trees, one placed on stage and the other on Lisner terrace, lit up simultaneously by a system of relays devised by the Engineering School. Following the tree lighting, Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, Milbank professor of religion, read the Christmas Story.

'Messiah' Presentation

The evening's finale was the eighth annual presentation of the Christmas portions of Handel's "Messiah" by the University glee club and Travelling Troubadours in cooperation with the Air Force Singing Sergeants and the Elderbrook Methodist choir. Captain Robert L. Landers, director of the Air Force Orchestra and the Singing Sergeants conducted.

Soloists were Ivan Genuchi, tenor and Robert Kerns, bass, both members of the Singing Sergeants. Betty Waller, soprano soloist, is a member of the glee club. Patricia Randall, a former member of the Troubadours, appeared as contralto soloist.

Troubadour Trip

Dr. Robert H. Harmon, associate University physician and director of the glee club, directed the Tuesday and Thursday practices held for several weeks prior to the performance. The Messiah marked the last appearance of the Travelling Troubadours before they embark on their holiday tour of Greenland tomorrow.

The Holiday Season committee was an innovation this year in the University activity program. Proposed by the Student Council, the committee was set up to coordinate the various pre-season events traditional at the University with a hope of preserving the spirit of the season.

Claire Chennault and Tim Meade served as co-chairmen of the committee. Other members of the committee are Sue Porter and Elizabeth Dittenhafer, publicity; Gladys Frank, Toy Drive and Betty Barry, chairman of the Orphan's Party.

Trudy London, HATCHET reporter, interviews "Santy" at the first University Holiday Season Ball last Friday night in the Student Union. The ball was the first event in the Holiday Season program, coordinated this year by the Holiday Season Committee, for the first time. Co-chairmen of the committee were Claire Chennault and Tim Meade.

Space-Wasters

• STUDIOUS STUDENTS ARE fine. They are the type of students that universities were created for, and we like to see them exercising their studiosness in appropriate places like the library. But we do not like to see them occupying an entire table in the Student Union at the height of the lunch or dinner-hour rush, to do their studying.

Although many students may have been guilty of this at one time or another, we are sure you will agree that it is quite selfish. Table and chair space on the first and second floors are at a precious premium during the lunch-hour and dinner-hour, and it is most unfair for students to use this space for studying, during those times. There are ample facilities for studying on the fourth floor of the Union and in the library; the first two floors of the Union, however, are supposed to be used for eating.

Other space-wasters during the lunch and dinner rush are the newspaper readers, who sit at a table happily digesting their newspapers, blissfully unaware of the mad scramble all around them for tables and chairs for hungry students who ask nothing more than a place at which to eat and digest their food.

Awareness of this situation and a little consideration for your fellow-students should end this space-wasting problem.

Christmas Time Is Here Again

by Trudy London

• SMACK! THE tingling smart of snowball smashing against face, neck, back; or the sensation of wet snow flakes more gently sprinkling on hair, eyelashes, nose, turning child and adult alike prematurely gray—this is the outdoor atmosphere for Christmas.

This whirling wonderland surrounds us completely until we are but one speck in a vast white world. Each of us is one individual, one runner caught up in the hustle bustle race through streets and stores—finishing time, December 25.

Glittering lights in the department stores, both hearty and soft carols, the scent of pine filling the crowded street, people carrying packages—Is this Christmas? Is this the inner feeling of Christmas? With our hands full of sprawling packages and our minds full of Christmas gift lists, how many of us stop and remember the collection cans? Is it easier to imagine those packages too precious to lay aside or time too scarce to borrow a second? Or is it easier to pass by the collection areas and say, "What a pity, but it's not my fault," and then go on your personal way?

Let's smile because we really want to, with our eyes, our mouths—our whole face. Instead of only muttering a hurried "How are you?" because it's the thing to say, be interested enough to stop and listen for an answer. Your smile will have a deeper meaning because it comes from inside.

Let us each extend a warmth, a true sense of giving, of Christmas, beyond our own circle of personal friends, if it is expressed in material worth or even if it's expressed in a smile.

Active Meredith Eagon Finishes College In Only Three Brief Years

by Kitty Hyland

• THIS IS A story about the girl who asked Student Council to insure her right hand. The story of the girl who heads the syndicate of humor here at G. W. and, at the same time, is the one and only busy poster painter on campus. Who else could this be but the gay and busy Mortar Board Secretary Meredith Eagon?

Meredith has attended G. W. all of her three college years and has incurred a more demanding schedule with each passing semester. Besides serving as Secretary of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, she is Publicity Director of Student Council, as well as member of Booster Board and Big Sis Board. One of her more amusing activities was being Martha, the "better half" of George, for the Colonials.

Do it in three years instead of four is Meredith's motto. She is entered into the program known as an accelerated course for college students. Meredith is in her senior year and is only nineteen—most sophomores are the age Meredith is now. She works part time in this program plus carrying the heavy load of activities and studies.

Known as the proverbial poster painter, Meredith has been publicity chairman for almost every big event on campus. Last year she handled publicity for Career Conference, Homecoming and Winter Weekend. Her value as an artist led to her request that Student Council insure her right hand.

Meredith has been scholarship program at which tapping takes place, and, in keeping with the occasion, was clad in a Court Jester's costume. "So there I was," says Meredith, "sitting on the floor with my legs dangling over the stage when my name was called for Mortar Board. Mother should have at least let me know."

An art major, Meredith hopes to enter the field of Fine Art, and for this reason she plans to work and study in New York next year. "I have been very pleased with the background in art that I have received here at G. W. both in art history and in drawing and painting courses."

When asked the relative importance of activities during college, Meredith said, "I feel activities are very necessary for a complete college life, but one can, of course, carry this to an extreme." Apparently she has just the right formula as she has always maintained a QPI of above a 3.0.

Her parting wish as a senior is that social distinction among independents and Greek organizations will decrease in the student body. Meredith feels that the Orientation Program should be set up to give very specific information on how to petition and join activities. "The biggest failing in the student body is the idea that G. W. has no spirit. This idea exists only because the very people who say this are the ones who come to class and do nothing else."

We will have more interested hard workers for sure, but one wonders if they will be quite as much fun and have as many good ideas as Meredith while at G. W.

and activities chairman of KKG and is a member of Delphi, sorority women's honorary. Yet, of all these activities the one occupying a special place in her heart is the honor of being the first female member of the Order of the Scarlet, a men's honorary organization.

She is known about campus as the ever smiling and happy gal. "Really," says Meredith, "I have a very mean disposition and am very hard to get along with"—even while saying this she had to crack a smile. It is obvious from her relations with other students that bad temperament is not one of her faults.

On the humorous side Meredith recalls her tapping as a member of Mortar Board. She was Mistress of Ceremonies for May Day, the

by Gregg Mayer

• HOW MANY PEOPLE can sit back and remember the time when they were riding around Rome in a motorcycle a la Brando, or holding their breath and camera simultaneously while viewing the Alps from the Alps, or being president of three University organizations, or getting a 4.0? Well, David Steinman can, and he does.

A zoology major, Dave is planning on entering medical school in 1959. Although he is taking many science courses, he is very interested in literature and the arts. At Wilson High school he was in the glee club and choir. The interest continued as he joined the Lyric Theater, an amateur operetta group formed by Wilson students six years ago. The repertoire consists primarily of Gilbert & Sullivan works and the production is handled by the performers. Dave was the set designer for the theater and he has brought the talent with him to the University, where he has done scenery for the Dance Production Groups.

Being a prexy of three organizations is something important. First, Dave was in charge of Old Men, and this year was considered "one of the best ever." An innovation this time was to combine (See STEINMAN, Page 9)

"It is a central fact of human existence that motives are often frustrated. Frustrated persons often adopt defense mechanisms."

"We come now to the well known theory of relativity. The student must remember that time, motion and many such connected concepts are not absolute but actually relative, or referred to another concept. International Relations Club Voices Opinions To Resolve World Conflict

• IT SEEMS THAT the President and other government officials are not the only ones tearing their hair out over Russian satellites. World problems are also the concern of the International Relations club.

"With all the sputniks and mutniks soaring around the earth, the IRC is more important than ever," declared Valerie Berman, president of the G. W. chapter. "The necessity of resolving the conflicts between the East and the West can be solved peacefully by getting together with one another."

And getting together is just what the IRC does every other Wednesday evening to consider world problems over a steaming cup of coffee. Meetings consist of lectures by authorities in various fields and question and answer sessions, where students have a chance to voice their opinions or to suggest their solutions to breath-taking, earth-shaking problems. Topics range from "Rebellion in Algeria" to "Economic Development in Asia."

The next meeting on December 18 of IRC will feature Ambassador Dreier, United States Ambassador to the Organization of American States. He will speak on "The Impact of the OAS on U. S. Foreign Policy." Since this speech falls during the holiday season the evening will end joyously with an informal Christmas party.

Plans for next semester are already under way. "Having taken a broad look at world affairs this semester," states secretary Sally Griffith, "the club has decided to make a more thorough study of one or two central themes for its second semester programs." Three of the proposals are: The Effect of the Middle East on the Balance of Power, the Strength of NATO and the Effect of Great Population Masses on World Affairs.

"The big excitement, however, concerns the national convention of the Association of International Relations clubs which will be held in Washington on March 30-April 2," stated Val Berman, G. W. and four area IRC's will play host to the 600 campus clubs from all over the country. The four-day conference, which will be held at the Mayflower Hotel, will use problems of the Middle East as its central theme. Eminent men will speak to those present and then discussion groups will be formed to discuss problems presented. A new planning procedure based on a policy of the Department of State will be tried whereby students will act as desk officers representing Syria, Saudi Arabia, etc. On the lighter side a square dance sponsored by G. W. under the direction of Val Berman, chairman for the convention, will be held and a contest with a grand prize of $500 for the best problem submitted will be an added attraction.

All meetings of the IRC are open to members and non-members. Dues are $1 a semester. All students who take an interest in the world around them are urged (See INTERNATIONAL, Page 9)

Sigma Chi's Have House Mothers

by May Crouch

• SIGMA CHI, the well-known social fraternity, has the fine distinction of being the only fraternity on campus to have house mothers. The house mothers are Mrs. Mary Barrow and Mrs. Helen Williams and are the real life mothers of Sigs Wiley Barrow and Bryan Williams.

The Sigs' practice started only this year when Mrs. Barrow and Mrs. Williams helped with the rush parties and exchanges. The house mother system was set up on a rotating basis from year to year, with Sigma Chi mothers taking turns in the position. This year Mrs. Barrow is house mother and Mrs. Williams is assistant house mother.

Mrs. Barrow, a native of Washington, D. C., attended G.W. and married Mr. Wiley Barrow, a Sigma Chi here. She has been very active in the affairs of the fraternity. Mrs. Williams is from St. Louis, Missouri, and attended Washington University.

The house mothers attend all of the social functions of the fraternity and give their time and assistance to the activities of the group. They do not live in the Sig house, however.

Wiley Barrow summed up the feelings of his brothers when he added, "We are very proud to have the first house mothers on George Washington's campus. As an attempt in striving towards the higher standards of the fraternity system and in keeping more with the Greek tradition, we decided to have house mothers. We believe our attempts are successful and will be of lasting effect."

Presented a Pin

The Sig's have gone all out for their house mothers. A special pin was presented to them at the Sigma Chi Sweetheart Dance last Saturday night.

The Sigma Chi's have a very active Mothers club, and the house mothers will probably be chosen from this group yearly by active chapter vote. Mrs. Barrow, by the way, is president of the Mothers club.

Sig Eps had another wild weekend Friday night at their gay Christmas Party. The highlights of the party were presents for brothers of SPE from the pledges, Jack Dano and Garwood Platt received Order of Bar Fly from International Bar Fly association which certified that they were members in good standing and were entitled to "get loaded," polluted and high as a kite" (lost! lost!). Val Zabijaka received a picture of exotic lands plus a free trip due to his love of travel. He was kidnapped by the pledge class and taken to some deserted spot. Unfortunately he returned. Some others got twelve inch cigars, including the Pledge Trainer Dave Clendening.

PHI ALPHA and SAE held a joint Playboy Formal Party Saturday night. The party sponsored by Playboy Magazine, was a most formal affair. Some of the Playboys in their tuxes and Playmates were: Warren Barley and ZTA Sue Thayer, Franny Gleason and KKG Morna Campbell, Bob Price and DG Helene Harper, Bill Frank and KKG Carolyn McKnight, Sig Jim Newheiser and ZTA Ruth Reagan, Jay Martin and KKG Gigi Winslett, Pete Hartwell and Ruthie Cooper, Carl Scrivner and KKG Gall Itchner. The Phi Alphas and their dates included: Paul Garner with Deuteron Joan Begelman, Donnie Sinrod with Phyllis Lipman, Ronnie West with Deuteron Phyllis Grossman, Richard Pincus with Deuteron pledge Diane Suger, Mert Lynn with Natalie Friedman.

In Bohemian style, the brothers of Tep held their annual "Pledge Party" in mimic of King For A Day. Mr. B. Prager was chosen King. On the village square "neath the Arch de Triumph," were: Arnie and Bonnie, M. Bertman, Pledge president, Larry and Ellie, Joe S. and B. Bran, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bornstein, brothers Fleshman and Kay, Stan and Shirley, Martin and Rita, Marty and Sue, Beete and Ann and a certain Al Cohen. Take note that Bob Berman is meeting a plane on Thursday—what's the big scoop here, I wonder?

On Sunday the eighth, the Kappa Deltas were honored at the KA house with champagne, hors-d'oeuvres, canapes, and all sorts of concoctions brewed up by Ann and John Byers. Seen serving were pledges Steve Buchannon, Jerry Lavery and Alex Heslin. Seen eating were pledges Sue Ford, Ann Rischer and Mary Foster. Also present having a great time were Al Davitt, Liz More, Kathy Denver, Karl Avellar, Ann Hughes, Stew Gelber and Janice Bennett.

One last note—Deuteron proudly announces the pinning of Sheila Footer to Bert Myers, of American U. and pledge Mimi May to Roy Marks.

The pledges, flowers in hand, were presented dressed in the traditional white formals.

Delta Gamma proudly introduced the following pledges and their escorts: Helene Harper and Bob Price, Ruth Cooper and Bill Frank, Sally Ann Walker and Dave Herrimen, Sarita Rodriguez-Amoros and Carl Voigt, Cissie Anderson and Neil Stull, Linda Berquist and John Marks, Mary Louise McCracken and John Bachman, Margo Herr and Allan Bugg, Betty Robinson and Bill Reagan, Bev Magee and Mike Hartwell, Lani Derickson and Jim Taylor. Bermuda Fever Strikes Again

• (ACP)—BERMUDA fever hit the University of Oklahoma campus in a legislative way last month. The student senate passed a resolution, 23-5, asking university officials to allow the wearing of Bermuda shorts at certain meals in the women's Quadrangle cafeteria.

The students asked that the shorts be allowed at breakfasts, Friday and Saturday suppers and Saturday lunches on non-football days.

They argued that shorts are accepted as proper wearing apparel for women, that the approach of warm weather increases the comfort problem for Quad residents, and that shorts are more convenient and comfortable than dresses.

Men in the know know true from false

College grads over forty suffer from a decline in their earning power.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

False. In fact the older they get the more money they earn. Statistics show that the average man's earning power declines rapidly after he reaches 45. The college grad's income is still going sharply up at this point.

College educated men tend to be bachelors to a greater degree than average American males.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

False. Recent studies show that Mr. College Grad is no longer avoiding the marriage license bureau the way he used to. In fact statistics now indicate that having a college degree actually lessens the probability of a man leading the bachelor life.

Jockey brand is America's best known brand of men's underwear.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

True. Independent surveys prove that Jockey is not only the best known underwear in the U.S. but also in 98 countries around the world. Just shows how universally men value comfort and fit.

Unions Want ROTC Sputnik Flies Above Flag Poles

• "UNIONS WILL TRY to negotiate more for their members," stated Seymour Brandwein, economist for the American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations, as he addressed the Society for Advancement of Management in a recent meeting.

"Union pressure for more wages and more benefits does not flow from the needs of unions, but from the American desire to move ahead," stressed Mr. Brandwein. The common objectives of labor unions through collective bargaining are higher wages, increased purchasing power and types of social security. Mr. Brandwein cited the rising standard of living in America as the reason for labor's demands.

One prime objective of labor, Mr. Brandwein pointed out, is the four-day week. "We don't expect to achieve that overnight, although progress has been made." The seven-hour day was an example used by the labor economist towards the arrival of the shorter working week.

Phil Pendleton and Dan Havens, both sophomore engineering students, work at launching their "University Sputnik," the morning of the area's heavy snowfall in front of Chapin Hall. The boys, both ROTC men, designed and built the rocket and Satellite out of "miscellaneous" material.

by Ernest Auerbach

• THE NAVY'S SATELLITE has failed, but the University's ROTC satellite made its first successful flight 10 days ago, to the top of the Chapin Hall flag poles.

Designed and built by Phil Pendleton and Dan Havens, sophomore engineering students, the home-made satellite is made out of "miscellaneous" material, topped by 14 neon lights powered by a 90 volt battery. The satellite is also decked with three parabolic antennas. The launching rocket was once a heavy cardboard carpet roll.

The idea came to Phil and Dan, both ROTC men, when the great rash of publicity surrounding the firing of Vanguard began. If the Navy can put up a rocket, so can the ROTC, said our rocketman.

The launching of the satellite took place the Thursday morning before the Vanguard launching, when the University sputnik was strung between the flagpoles in front of Chapin Hall. After Vanguard's failure our local experts' rocket was placed nose down in the snow before the ROTC headquarters.

Both the rocket and satellite went on display in the ROTC cadet lounge last week. The display is now at the David Hodgkins house. Who knows where it will go next.

Most important say Phil and Dan "the light on our rocket will burn for four months, and those of the Russian rocket only three weeks. We urge the student body to follow closely the exploits of the engineering school for further developments."

Ambassador Drier To Speak Dec. 18

• AMERICAN AMBASSADOR John C. Drier will speak to the International Relations club tomorrow at 8:10 p.m. in Monroe 102.

"The Organization of American States and its impact on United States Foreign Policy" will be the topic of the Ambassador's speech. Ambassador Drier has been the United States representative with personal rank of Ambassador to the Council of the Organization of American States since 1951.

Ambassador Drier entered the State Department in 1941 when he was Chief United States delegate to the 12th American Sanitary Conference in Caracas, Venezuela. In 1944 he became Chief of the Division of American Republics Analysis and Liaison, and in 1946 he served as Acting Chief of the Division of Special Inter-American Affairs. In 1949 he became Director of the Office of Regional American Affairs.

Ambassador Drier received his B.A. from Harvard University in 1928. From 1931 to '41 the Ambassador served in various capacities with the Department of Interior, the Department of Agriculture and the Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

All students and faculty are invited to attend the address.

the services of Mortar Board with those of Old Men in a joint information booth during registration. The Hillel Foundation is another of David's jobs. Being president involves setting up the various lecture series, among other things. The series is open to all University students as well as to Hillel members. Included in the series are the topics of Courtship and Marriage, the Middle East, and the relationship of religion to various aspects of modern life, such as art, politics, etc.

When not involved with these important functions, David is president of the scholarship-holders organization, Alpha Theta Nu, and he is also on the Dean's list and a member of Scarlet. This year he was appointed co-chairman of Career Conference with Eldon Miller.

This summer, David lifted his head above the books, zoological diagrams, papers and official-looking envelopes and made the break; two and one-half months in Europe. A member of a student tour, he visited seven countries, finding Switzerland the most fabulous (if that's possible), especially for its magnificent scenery. He heard Callas at the Edinburgh festival, saw La Scala, visited Paris, London, Venice and many other places that now seem part of a glorious but evanescent dream.

High Schools Hold Annual Conference

• DELEGATES FROM 15 high schools met last week in Lisner lounge for the annual Fall High School discussion conference.

The topic for discussion was: What policy should the United States pursue now with respect to our Mutual Security Program?

The students voted and passed a resolution based on the day's discussion. The resolution stated that the United States should change the Mutual Security program by increasing the number of loans and decreasing the amount and number of monetary grants, increasing the technical assistance programs, continuing our military assistance plans until there is no longer a threat of aggression, financing this plan by a two-year appropriation plan, rather than year by year and informing the citizens of the United States and the recipient nations of the motives and objectives of our security program.

It was further resolved that this program should be continued until the reasons for its establishment ceased to exist.

Panel Discussion

The conference was directed by Dr. L. Poe Leggette, Depew professor of speech. Dr. John F. Latimer, assistant dean of faculties, opened the program with a welcome. At 9:30 a.m. a panel discussion with Associate Professor

George F. Henigan as moderator took place. Guest speakers were Dr. J. Warren Nystrom, manager of the international relations department of the United States Chamber of Commerce and Mr. F. J. Blachly, director of the public liaison division, office of public University will also send several foreign students to be guests of the Shoreham management.

In addition to the Voice of America broadcast, CBS will do a live network broadcast to be beamed to the Armed forces overseas. The Hotel believes that a College Night has never before been attempted in the Washington area.

The management will consider sponsoring a College Night monthly if the students desire its continuance.

The band booked into the Blue Room this month is Richard Maltby. The Dorsey brothers' band will follow in January.

• MINOR SPORTS AT George Washington are providing Colonial fans with the only victories of the year. This time the rifle team began to unlimber its shooting prowess, and both the men's and the women's team came through with victories.

The men's rifle team took their second straight win of the year by beating Catholic University 1401-1364. The total of 1401 is the highest mark the team has fired in five years and could mean that the Colonial rifle team will return as one of the best squads in the nation, a position the Buff held for a number of years.

Freshman Wins

Ian Rule, a freshman, took over the high scorers spot from Paul Nordquist. Rule fired a 291 score. With Rule outflanking Nordquist and the promise of Julian Seidell, the team is looking forward to a very promising year.

Individual scores were:

	Prone	Kneel	Stand	Total
Ian Rule	100	95	96	291
P. Nordquist	99	97	93	289
J. Seidell	99	92	86	277
C. Schlosser	99	87	90	276
H. Skopic	100	90	78	268

Also firing were Dave Hertig and Steve Ridgway.

Women Win

The women's rifle team fired their second best score in five years in beating Northeastern University 494-487. This was the first match of the year for the women's team.

Sue Hinkel and Lynn Granger were high scorers with 100 points apiece. Other scorers were Nadya Kayaloff, 99; Helen Skopic, 98; and Madeleine Heinz, 97. Also firing for the Buff were Betty Ross, Marcia Shellabarger, Elizabeth Clark, Marjorie Spencer and Nancy Head.

The postal match consisted of ten shots per person in the prone position, with a possible ten points per shot. Ten members of the team shoot, with the highest five being counted in the total. There is a possible 500 points.

Past Record

The G. W. team, in thirty years since its establishment, has never placed lower than fifth in the national women's intercollegiate matches and has produced several national champions. Last year in these matches the women's team was runner-up for the three position championship, placed third in prone championship, and produced the national three position champion in Helen Skopic.

After the team's fine showing in their first match, Coach May McEwan forecasts a fine year. Another encouraging factor is the number of reserves the squad has this year.

... Paul Nordquist, one of G. W.'s great shooters, is taking a back seat to Ian Rule, a freshman, in the beginning of the season against Catholic U. Rule outshot Nordquist, 291-289.

Junior Varsity Goes Undefeated In Openers

• THE GEORGE WASHINGTON Junior Varsity won its first two games of its season's schedule and gave hope to Colonial fans of some promise next year.

In a preliminary to the North Carolina game the Buff Jayvees beat a good DeMatha team 76-73 with Bill Ingram leading the way with 30 points. High man for the night was Ernie Cage with 39 points.

Intramural Basketball Opens With 35 Teams

• BASKETBALL 'MURALS GOT off to a high-scoring start this week as Sigma Chi, the Moonlighters, the Med. School (a), Sigma Nu, the Jersians and Delta Theta Phi led the way.

Delta Theta Phi started the ball rolling Wednesday night as it trounced Kappa Alpha 96-15. DTPhi led throughout the game, as it scored at will, controlled the backboard, and stopped the Kappa Alphas cold. At the end of the first quarter DTPhi led 26-0, while the half-time score was 50-8.

Chuck Thompson led the way for Delta Theta Phi with 37 points. Thompson scored consistently throughout the game, getting four field goals and one free throw in the first quarter, four field goals in the second quarter, two field goals in the third quarter, and eight more field goals in the final quarter.

Bud Lempio picked up 16 points for DTPhi as he scored six field goals in the second quarter and two goals in the third quarter. Walter Paulic was third man in the DTPhi scoring parade as he picked up 14 points, three goals in both the first and fourth quarters, and one goal in the third.

Moonlighters Win

In league A, the Moonlighters whipped DTD (B) 64-20. Having greater height and better teamwork, the Moonlighters had no trouble breaking through the DTD zone defense. The DTDs on the other hand couldn't solve the Moonlighter zone defense and shot relatively few times and from far out.

Kenny Erickson, 6'5" center, scored 18 points and was the outstanding player for the Moonlighters. Playing pivot and fed by guards Ed Dacy and Gus Tseronis, Erickson scored nine times, and with his height Erickson controlled both backboards.

John Bigelow, 6'2" forward, was high scorer for the Moonlighters. Bigelow scored 20 points on fast breaks through the DTD defense. Scoring 18 points for the Moonlighters, Tseronis also scored on fast breaks.

Piloted by Ed Dacy and Tseronis, the Moonlighters played well for the first game, however, the Moonlighters should be even stronger when Dimitri Koutras, 6'4" all-Metropolitan forward, is added to the roster.

SX Romps

Also, in league A, Sigma Chi downed SPE 63-23. Greater height gave Sigma Chi the backboards and forced SPE to shoot from far out.

High scorer for SX was Don Herman, forward, with 20 points. Herman scored 10 goals under the basket on rebounds. Second high with 13 points was pivot man Carl Zaleski. Playing center, Zaleski was fed by guards Dick Claypool and Louie Fisher.

SPE's team was formed around guard Bob Mock and Jack Dano. Mock scored 15 of the 23 SPE points, and Dano scored the other 8.

Med. School Wins

A taller Med. Sch. (a) team beat PIKA (b) 56-16 in league B. Both teams used a man for man defense, but the height of the Med. Sch. team gave it control of the backboards.

High scorer for the Med. Sch. team was Lin Rowe with 14 points, followed by Dave Carlson with 9 points. Outstanding players were 6'6" guard Bob Ratzer and Dan Baker.

The Jersians put down a good Phi Sig team 60-49 in League C. The Jersians used a man to man defense against the Phi Sigs' 2-3 zone defense. Most of the scoring was on driving layups.

High scorers for the Jersians were Dick Bonieski with 18 points, and Gino D'Ambrosia with 14 points.

Results

League B: Sigma Nu 65, Kappa Sigma 12, and SAE forfeited to the Mighty Mites.

League C: SAE (a) 52, Theta Tau 18.

League E: ROTC 32, Sigma Nu (b) 15; DTD 46, Med. Sch. (c) 11, and Wesley club 38, Indians 37.

Against North Carolina, the nation's number one team, Guarilla netted 18 points.

Sports Special

by Paul Truntich

• THE GEORGE WASHINGTON ROWING club's dream of becoming a recognized sport of the University received a boost when Fred Maletz was recently hired as rowing coach by the Athletic Department.

The club has come a long way since its beginning two years ago, when a couple of interested students got together and formed the Rowing club. Facilities for rowing have been acquired; two shells have been purchased by the University; 20 oars and a motor for the coach's launch were bought, and now a coach has been hired.

A nucleus for establishing rowing has been achieved; everything is present except one conspicuous item—manpower. Enough students must show an interest in the sport before the University will recognize it as such.

Coach Maletz

Coach Maletz said that he would like to have between 20 and 30 men out for the team which would make it possible to have varsity and junior varsity teams. He stressed that size is not a factor as it is to a big extent in football; if you are not big enough for the varsity shell there is always room on the JV eight. All that is needed to become a oarsman is the desire and willingness to work.

If enough men do show an interest, Coach Maletz probably will win a few races. His record speaks for itself. He was one of the persons responsible for organizing rowing as a sport at Washington-Lee High School about ten years ago. In its first year of existence the W-L team won the National Championship and took various other honors! That was a remarkable achievement by Coach Maletz considering the difficulties he was up against.

More Manpower

Before anything can be done at G. W., however, men students with or without experience must support the team by trying out for it. This is not directed just at the fraternity men, but mainly at the reservoir of independent students which has not been tapped yet. Coach Maletz agreed with me that this would be a great way for some of the independent men students, otherwise not interested in activities around school, to really "belong" to George Washington University. The interest that the independent men show in rowing will probably determine in the long run whether rowing will ever become a sport at the University.

School Support

President Marvin and the Athletic Department are very interested in rowing as a Colonial sport—if the student body will support it.

The team has the facilities, shells, and the proximity of one of the best "rowing" rivers in the country. It has an experienced coach. This year's plans include moving into more intercollegiate competition. Everything is there except manpower. As Uncle Sam would say, "We need you."

Drop Both Games In Steel Bowl

by Bob Lipman

• GEORGE WASHINGTON, a faltering but game team, made Miami of Ohio go into overtime before bowing 66-64 in the consolation game of the Steel Bowl.

Earlier the Buff lost to a favored Pitt team, 69-59, as the Colonials ran out of breath and adequate bench strength the end of the game.

Playing the highly favored Tarheels of North Carolina, the Buff were handily routed by the high-flying Carolinians 86-59. This ran Coach Frank McGuire's undefeated streak to 34 games. It also gave the Colonials a streak—three straight losses.

The game was never in doubt from the opening tap. Twice in the first half the Tarheels had leads of 15 points and twice the Buff whittled it down to a respectable margin. North Carolina went off the court at halftime sporting a 40-28 lead.

Lee Shaffer, 6-foot-7 guard, was the star for the Tarheels. Shaffer sunk 20 points, but scored them on a variety of crowd-pleasing shots. His specialty was a twisting, one-handed jump from within three feet of the basket.

Veteran Tommy Kearns showed the fans why he was selected as a pre-season choice for All-American. Kearns netted 22 points on driving layups, set shots from the outside and jump shots from the foul circle. Once Kearns drove for the basket, found three Colonials in his path, jumped, shifted the ball while in mid-air from one hand to the other behind the back and missed the shot, but was applauded.

The Tarheels had another man in the 20-point column in the figure of Pete Brennan. Brennan was dead from the side and also led both teams in rebounds with 13.

As usual, the bright light and high scorer for the Colonials was Gene Guarilia. The big 6-foot-6 center was stopped in the first half, but managed to net 18 points for the Buff. The play of Bill Telasky was quite a pleasant surprise to Colonial fans. Telasky played his first good game of the season, scoring 15 points and played good defensive ball.

The Buff almost upset a favored Pitt team in the first round of the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh. G. W. grabbed control of the backboards and kept up a torrid pace that saw the underdog Colonial team tie the Panthers 33-33 at the half.

Guarilia had the crowd frantic as he superbly controlled the boards and more than once brought the crowd of 5000 to its feet.

The Colonials built up a seven-point lead after seven minutes had gone by in the second half, but the game Buff squad couldn't keep up the pace, because of a lack of adequate reserve power.

Led by Julius Pegues' 10 points in a second-half rally, the Panthers slowly caught up and pulled away from the tired Colonials.

Don Hennon, Pitt's scoring star, could only muster 16 points throughout the game as he only made seven of 24 shots. Pegues led the Panthers with 24 points. Guarilia and McDonald paced the Buff with 14 points apiece.

The Colonials almost found the victory trail against the Redskins from Miami of Ohio in the consolation game of the Steel Bowl Tournament.

Leading 32-24 at the half, the Buff looked like they might break a 10-game losing streak dating from last season, but Miami exploded in the presence of their 6-foot-8 star Wayne "Goose" Embry. Embry, held to only five points in the first half, exploded for 23 points in the second half to lead the Redskins to a come-from-behind overtime victory.

G. W. led 59-56 with 1:40 to play, but two free throws by John Powell and a free throw by Herb Thomas tied the score at 59-all at the end of the regulation time.

Miami jumped to a 64-59 lead when the extra period started and a free throw and field goal by Telasky put the Buff within range, but with a minute left, Telasky and Guarilia committed two personal and the Redskins put the freeze on to win the game.

Embry led all scorers with 23 points, while Guarilia collected 19 for the Colonials and Telasky picked up 16 points.

Greeks Take ISAB Bridge

• JAN ANDERSON AND Lee Harley, representing the Wandering Greeks won the annual Inter-sorority Athletic Board's bridge tournament last Thursday night at Woodhull House.

Placing second and third, respectively were Biscuit LeBosquet and Sue Porter representing Pi Beta Phi, and Mimi Slidell and Ginny Roehr, representing Kappa Alpha Theta.

The contest, under the direction of Nancy Oliver, ISAB Tournament Chairman, is part of a series of tournaments in different athletic areas held among the sororities. The winner of each individual tournament receives a small trophy and accumulates points towards a large rotating cup to be given to the over-all winner at the end of the year. At present, Pi Beta Phi is leading with a score of 16 points, followed by the Wandering Greeks with nine and Kappa Alpha Theta with seven.

... Gene Guarilia hits for two points against the Tarheels of North Carolina at Uline Arena. North Carolina's zone defense and fast break proved too much for the Colonials as they bowed 86-59. This ran the Tarheel victory streak to 34 straight and gave the Buff its third straight loss of the season. Guarilia was high for the Colonials with 18 points.
